

The Board's Corner:

The Annual meeting in January launched the Village into 2018 with energy and fun and with a new vision for the Board of Directors. The Village is now in our fourth year. The founders of the Village, under the leadership of Katie Tyler, did everything at once, establishing the Village as a legal entity, writing by-laws, creating committees, overseeing programs and activities. With this solid foundation and with the growing maturity of the Village we move into a year of transition by restructuring the Board. The Board now will focus on policy and procedures and meet quarterly. The activities and programs will be coordinated by the Committee of Committees (COC) made up of the seven Village committee chairs. The COC will meet monthly.

The Board currently has twelve members – we are pleased to welcome four new members, Laura Breeden, Eileen Coffey, Bill Emmet, and Nancy Mills. The Board members are elected by the Village members. Our by-laws require we have a minimum of three Board members and a maximum of fifteen. The Governance Committee nominates Board candidates. Board Officers are appointed by the Board members. A list of Board members, Officers, and Committee Chairs is provided on page 5.

The Village is an all-volunteer organization of neighbors coming together to care for each other and to participate in social, cultural and wellness activities. With some 200 members and a list of programs and activities, it makes a great contribution to our community and to those of us facing the challenges of our older years. Together, we are the Village.

Meet the Villagers: Mazie Green Holland

Mazie Green Holland has had a distinguished career on two continents. She has been the U.S. Representative for the Diaspora Forum Mission, headquartered in Accra, Ghana. This international organization supports the African Union and member states by serving as a bridge between persons of African descent living across the globe and the countries on the African continent through education, research, and travel. Mazie has conducted seminars and workshops to prepare students, and has accompanied groups of all ages on their first African journeys. She is the co-founder and former Director of Public Relations for Micro Credit in Africa (MICA), a group committed to helping African women gain economic autonomy and, thereby, improving their health, nutrition and education. Mazie has been recognized for her humanitarian work by numerous business and religious groups.

Mazie has been equally involved on the home-front. She has served as the campaign manager for several local politicians and for D.C. Board of Education campaigns, and served as co-chair of D.C. Women in Politics and Women's Political Campaign School. Mazie was the regional event coordinator for the two Obama campaigns and that of Hilary Clinton. At Howard University she was a co-founder of the university's Parents Advisory Committee and was chair of the Paul Anthony Dillard, Jr. Memorial Foundation Library Scholarship Fund. She remains very active in her church.

Born in Arlington, VA, Mazie has always resided in the metropolitan area. She is a graduate of Howard University. Mazie and her husband, the late John S. Holland, moved to Mount Pleasant in 1965. She has three adult daughters, three grandchildren, and a great-grandson.

Upcoming Events: La Esquina – A Photo Exhibit by Rick Reinhard

The La Esquina exhibit is the culmination of a year-long process by Villager Rick Reinhard of talking to, recording interviews with, and photographing "Los Esquineros," the men and women who hang out in front of the 7-Eleven on Mount Pleasant Street. The aim of the project has been to provide a space for the Latino community of Mount Pleasant to tell its own story.

The exhibit will take place in two venues: the Sidewalk exhibit (weather permitting), in front of the Mount Pleasant 7-Eleven on March 3, from 1:00 to 5:00 pm; and the Gallery exhibit opening at Gala Hispanic Theatre on March 14, from 7:00 to 9:00 pm. The Gallery exhibit will include a reception, with performances and community testimonies beginning at 8:00, including guest performances by Lilo Gonzales and Son La Lucha. Free to the public.

Villagers Come Out for Annual Meeting

A lively crowd of Villagers attended the recent annual meeting. As a warmup act, Bob (Hoff) Hoffman played harmonica, accompanied by Mara Cherkasky on accordion, leading the audience in song. During the business meeting several important changes to the Village were presented: Katie Tyler stepped down as president, to continue her Village work on the Membership Committee; Mary Rojas became the new president to lead the Village through its period of restructuring and transition; and four new members were elected to the Board of Directors – William Emmet, Nancy Mills, Laura Breeden, and Eileen Coffey.

The keynote speaker for the annual meeting was Arthur Mola, Principal of Bancroft Elementary School (a Village partner). He provided an update on the renovation and “state of the art” modernization of the school, which has been underway for more than a year and is close to completion. Classes are scheduled to return to Bancroft in August 2018. Mr. Mola is looking forward to inviting Villagers to an open house and tour of the new school.

Mr. Mola discussed several ways Villagers can be involved with the school, such as becoming a community volunteer for activities at the school (e.g. the reading mentors program) and participating in the upcoming “Tile Project,” a fundraiser where individuals buy a tile designed and created by a student, which will then become part of the wall structure. More information on the “Tile Project” will be forthcoming. In closing, Mr. Mola stated that Bancroft remains dedicated to high-quality level bilingual education, high academic achievement for all students, and celebrating multiculturalism. Bancroft would like a more enhanced relationship with Village when they return to neighborhood.
